Kate Middleton Accessorises with this Season's Must-Have at Top Drawer Autumn

Kate Middleton has access to the most exclusive designers in the country, however it was a Top Drawer Autumn carrier bag that was her must-have fashion accessory when she was spotted by eagerly waiting paparazzi at this not-to-be missed event.

Kate Middleton visited Top Drawer Autumn on Tuesday 11th September in her role as an accessories buyer for Jigsaw, and after checking out this season's hottest trends, she left carrying a Top Drawer Autumn carrier bag, no doubt filled with inspiration for the buying season ahead.

The show, held at Olympia between 9-11 September 2007, is the last chance for buyers and retailers to source the very latest new products and bestsellers for Christmas and is renowned for showing cutting-edge product in an exciting environment. With stunning new features, over 800 carefully selected UK, and international companies exhibiting 1000's of products from the design-led sector, it's no surprise that Top Drawer Autumn is Kate Middleton's bag.
